The Houston Police Department's Robbery Division is seeking the public's assistance in identifying robbery suspects.

On November 30, 2009 around 2:15 am, a hispanic male suspect entered the La Quinta Hotel at the 11000 block of Katy Freeway and spoke with the front desk clerk about room rates. After learning the rates, the suspect went outside to the front vehicle drop off area where he spoke with the second suspect who was driving a white Toyota Previa. Both suspects then exited the vehicle parked in front of the building and went back inside the hotel.

The second suspect approached the front desk clerk and displayed a rifle/shotgun and pointed it at her body. The suspects forced the clerk to open the registers and demanded that she tell them where the surveillance video was located. After the suspects took all the money from the front registers, they forced the clerk to her vehicle parked in the parking lot and removed items from her car. The suspects made the clerk stay in her vehicle while they fled the location in the white Toyota Previa.
